How will we know if your child has SEND and how will we inform you?

- Your child's Primary School will pass on information to us as part of the transition process
- We may talk to you prior to your child starting school
- KS2 Data
- Screening tests when they arrive (New Group Reading tests, CAT tests, Some Subject base line tests).

For students transferring to the school at other times:

- Information from parents
- Information requested from previous school as part of the transfer process.

For all students in school:

- Subject teachers, Heads of Year and mentors will refer students to the SENDCo
- You may have concerns about your child's progress and can contact us in school
- Attitude to Learning Reports and Analysis

We will contact you if we feel your child needs additional support. This will enable us to build a full picture of a student's strengths and weaknesses and help us begin the process of identifying appropriate support for the individual.

What kinds of SEN do we support in school?

"A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions" – SEND Code of Practice 2015.

Children and young people (CYP) with a wide range of SEN are welcomed into the school. If a parent of a pupil with an EHCP requests a place at the school, the CYP is welcomed and strategies sought to meet needs.

The range of SEN we currently support in school includes:

- Communication and Interaction – This includes students with speech, language and communication needs and Autistic Spectrum Disorder (ASD)
- Cognition and Learning – This includes students with Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD) and Specific learning difficulties (SpLD) such as dyslexia
- Sensory and/or physical needs – This includes students with Visual Impairment (VI), Hearing Impairment (HI) and Physical Disability (PD)
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health (SEMH) needs.

How will we evaluate the impact of the support we provide?

- The progress and attainment of all students, including those with SEND, is carefully monitored and reported to parents four times across the academic year through Attitude to Learning Reports.
- Internal monitoring systems are robust and all staff are held to account for the progress of all students which is a key factor in staff performance management.
- All interventions are put in place as a result of the Assess, Plan, Do, Review model outlined in the SEND code of practice.
- Those students who have SEND intervention have Intervention reports sent home to parents.
- Parents/carers are invited to discuss their child's progress at SEND reviews and parent consultation evenings.
- Where insufficient progress is made, the intervention is reviewed and a more appropriate intervention is sought.

Access for all

Scalby School is fully inclusive. All staff have a part to play in ensuring that students with SEND are not disadvantaged in their access to learning or the school community.

All students are invited to attend extracurricular activities and school trips. SEND students are proportionally represented within the student voice team.

Other ways of ensuring access for all include:

- Information and meetings with parents/carers supported by the specialist teaching team enable us to make decisions about any adaptations or equipment needed
- My Profiles in which students tell staff what works for them and what doesn't
